All the FGB participants were greatly inspired and blessed. Below are some key take-away lessons from our brothers:

Peter Liew:

“A Person Who Does Not Worry About The Future Will Shortly Have Worries About The Present.

Leadership Continuity Is About Business Effectiveness or Viability, Preparing Each Generation To Serve Its Time.

Anticipate The Future With Appropriate People, Purpose, and Program.

Great Leaders Do Not Create Followers; They Create More Leaders.”

Derrick Wee:

“Attending ELC 2023 has been an incredible opportunity for me to gain valuable insights into leadership thoughts, personal growth, and essential Christ-like values. As a recent graduate, I was fortunate to learn from individuals with diverse backgrounds and experiences, such as Dato’ Seri Idris Jala who shared his challenges managing Shell, Andrew Ma who provided his perspective on the ethics of AI, and Bill Foo who offered valuable guidance on how to maximize my career trajectory. Additionally, touring the DBS bank headquarters gave me unique insights into their innovative thinking and history. Overall, the knowledge and experiences gained from ELC 2023 have been truly transformative for me.”

Vexter Razine:

“Attending ELC 2023 was an enlightening experience that broadened my perspectives and fostered personal and professional growth. Connecting with diverse leaders from different countries really helped me gain valuable insights and understand different approaches to leadership and problem-solving. Insights from notable figures like Dato Sri' Idris Jala, Mr. Tony Meloto, Dr. Andrew Ma, and YB Hannah Yeoh emphasized the critical role of collaborative leadership. Equipped with newfound knowledge, I am now empowered to lead with purpose and create meaningful impacts in the world. My heartfelt appreciation goes to the organizers and speakers, for this unforgettable opportunity. Thank you.”
